Hardware Jewelry

The nuts and bolts of jewelry-making

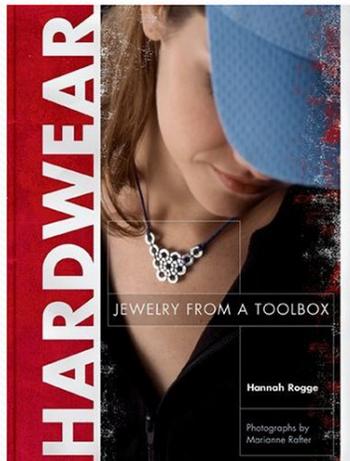

What's in your toolbox?

- Waxed string in brown and black, or hemp twine
- Nuts and washers in assorted finishes—silver, bronze, copper, etc.
 - Size #10-32 works well*
 - Brown cord + brass washers = instant steampunk!
- Earring posts (optional)
- Scissors, glue for securing knots (also optional)

*I have no idea what this actually means.

Macramé? This isn't 1977...

- Good news! If you can make a friendship bracelet, you can make hardware jewelry.
 - If you've never made a friendship bracelet, your branch almost certainly has some craft books on knotwork.

 - A permission slip and firm age range can help here
- Obtain public viewing rights from the distributor or a third-party licensing system
- Permission slips
- Review forms
 - This helps teens feel involved in the collection development process and gives them “ownership” of the collection
- Snacks. It’s no fun without popcorn and soda, right?

Film Series

- Preview the movies, especially if released before 1984
 - Monty Python and the Holy Grail is PG.
 - So is Brave.
- Obtain public viewing rights
- A permission slip might be required by your system
- I did mention snacks, right?
