

Adult Summer Reading Program

On and Beyond the CSLP Manual

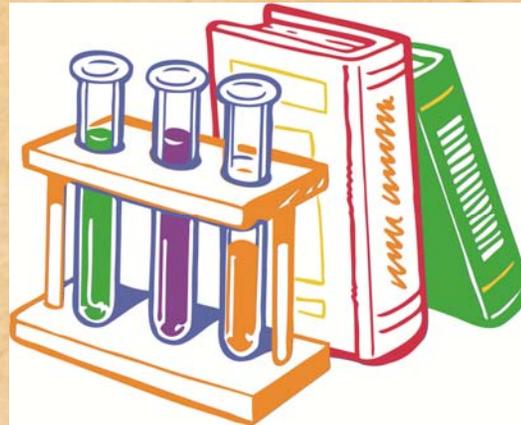

Janet Ingraham Dwyer
Library Consultant
State Library of Ohio
jdwyer@library.ohio.gov

CSLP provides a website and planning manual with themed SRP ideas for children, early literacy, teens, and adults.

The general theme for 2014 is SCIENCE.

www.csllpreads.org

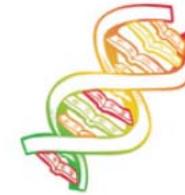

Literary Elements features artwork by Larry Jones.

Posters, color art, extra clipart, PowerPoint backgrounds, and more are all on the manual DVD.

CSLP is pleased to offer this special section on Adult Summer Reading for its membership. The section includes resources and activities that focus on unique programs that work with adult library patrons during the summer. Included are sample adult summer reading programs, sites to assist in adult programming and general resources for working with adults. We hope you find it useful in your work with this summer's program.

Adult Programming in Libraries

Adult Programming Ideas

A variety of programming ideas are listed in five main areas; 21st Century Literacy, Diversity, Education and Continuous Learning, Equity of Access, and Intellectual Freedom – ALA.

101 Ideas for Serving the Impaired Elderly

Ideas and models for serving the elderly in nursing homes and other care facilities. Excerpt from an out-of-print ASCLA publication.

Sample Adult Summer Reading Programs

Adult Summer Reading Programs

Resources on adult summer reading from Mid Hudson Library System (New York). Includes basic program ideas, titles, prizes, registration, and benefits of adult summer reading programs.

Brooklyn Public Library

Patrons ages seventeen and up are invited to sign up for Adult Summer Reading at BPL. Includes fiction and nonfiction suggestions and book reviews by patrons.

General Adult Programming Resources

BiFolkal Kits for Adults

BiFolkal kits are a great way to bring senior adults and young people together to reminisce and learn together.

<http://cslpreads.org/programs/adult-programs.html>

Fizz Boom Read!

Getting Started Early Lit Kids Teens Adults more...

Precious! A Program on Gemstones

We covet them, we wear them, but what do we know about them? Invite a local jeweler, gemologist, or geologist with expertise in mineralogy to talk about gemstones. What makes a stone more valuable? How do jewelers rate diamonds? How are gemstones made into beautiful jewelry and what are gems made of?

<http://fizzboomread.weebly.com/adults.html>

Partners! Invite them and expand your reach!

Universities
Conservatories
Zoos
Farms
Factories
Science Museums
Parks & Recreation Department
Soil & Water Conservation District
County Extension Office
Clubs
DIY groups...

A decorative border surrounds the central text. The top border features a repeating sequence of icons: an atom, laboratory glassware (beakers and flasks), a rack of test tubes, a stack of books, and another set of laboratory glassware. The left and right borders are vertical columns of icons, including stacks of books, a beaker with liquid, a flask with bubbling liquid, a stack of books, a flask with bubbling liquid, a stack of books, a microscope, and an open book. The bottom border is not explicitly shown but would complete the frame.

Thank you!

Janet Ingraham Dwyer
Library Consultant
State Library of Ohio
614-644-6910
jdwyer@library.ohio.gov